

7th Hour Political Participation Unit Planner

Governing is achieved directly through citizen participation and indirectly through institutions (political parties, interest groups, mass media) that inform, organize and mobilize support to influence government and politics, resulting in many venues for citizen influences on policy making.

Essential Questions:

- How have changes in technology influenced political communication and behavior?
- Why do levels of participation and influence in politics vary?
- How effective are the various methods of political participation in shaping public policies?
